Welcome from Conference Chairman

It is my pleasure to invite you to join us at The European Conference on Neuroinflammation - Basic and Clinical Concepts (ECN2019) held in association with The Oxford Centre for Neuroinflammation, taking place 8-9 April 2019 in London, UK.

ECN2019 is the first in a series of annual events that will facilitate the investigative and analytical discussion of a range of neurodegenerative diseases. The ECN2019 Conference will focus on multiple sclerosis as a paradigmatic neuroinflammatory and neurodegenerative disease.

Through a comprehensive scientific programme with a broad basic and therapeutic aspect focus, our world-renowned faculty will address the entire spectrum from basic aspect of neuroinflammation and neurodegeneration, up to state-of-the-art treatment of multiple sclerosis.

Key topics addressed will include:

- Genetic and immunological understandings of multiple sclerosis
- Clinical management of neuroinflammation and neurodegeneration with particular focus on multiple sclerosis
- Emerging concepts for understanding and treating patients with multiple sclerosis

The conference is held in association with the new Oxford Centre for Neuroinflammation (OCNI), which aims to shed light on the causes of neurodegenerative diseases and uncover new treatment pathways.

We wish you a fruitful and insightful conference and an enjoyable springtime in London.

Lars Fugger

ECN2019 Conference
Chairman
